8 Markdown is a simple and effective way to format reports. It allows you to add headings, lists, links, and images to your document with ease.
9 Headers
10 Headers are used to break up your document into sections. You can create headings adding one or more # symbols before your text 11 Lists
12 Lists are a great way to organize information. You can create ordered lists by numbers before your text, or unordered lists by adding dashes or asterisks.
13 Links
14 Links allow you to reference external websites or other pages within your document.
  You can create links by adding square brackets around your text, followed by the URL in parentheses
15
16 Images
17 Images can help illustrate your points and make your document more engaging. You can add images by adding an exclamation mark before square brackets, followed by the URL in parentheses.
18 With these simple formatting options, you can create professional-looking reports in no time. Happy writing!
